TOOK THE WRONG ONE.

A group of aeronauts were telling balloon stories in the smoking-room of a Chicago hotel. Capt. H. E. Honeywell, who with the "Fielding-Antonio" balloon was later to break all long-distance speed records, laughed and said:

"The great Elyot made a balloon ascent from Charleston one hot summer afternoon. A thunderstorm came up. Elyot, amid buckets of rain, the roar of thunder and the flash of lightning, was blown about like thistledown. On toward midnight he found himself over a plantation and threw out his anchor—a grapnel at the end of a long rope.

"It happened that a colored man had died in one of the huts of this plantation. The funeral was to take place in the morning. A dozen friends of the dead man sat in the soft summer night before the hut, telling ghost stores.

"Suddenly, in the darkness above them, they heard strange noises—a flapping of great wings, menacing cries. And they saw dimly a formless black shape.

"All but one man ran. This one man, as he cowered on his stool, had the ill luck to be seized by the grapnel.

"The grappel, going at a great pace, whirled him up four or five feet in the air and jerked him along at the rate of 15 miles or so an hour.

"'Oh, massa, massa,' he yelled, squirming and kicking in that strange flight, 'I'se not de one! I'se not de cawpse! Dick's in de house dah! In de house dah!'"

FRANCE IS SLOWLY DYING.

The steadily progressive decline in the birth rate of France is a subject of constant preoccupation among political economists. Certainly a statistical review of the situation published in Opinion by M. de Foville, member of the institute and president of the Academie des Sciences Morales et Politiques, accentuates the national gravity of the question.

The latest figures prove that France as a nation is slowly but surely dying. In 100 years the birth rate has fallen from 32 per 100 to 19.7 and at the present moment, for the first time in history, and in France alone among nations, the deaths exceed the birth.

VIRGINIA OYSTER SEASON.

Oyster packers, planters, tongers and others engaged in the industry are ready for the opening of the season for taking bivalves from the Chesapeake bay and tributaries, which, under the state law, takes place on tomorrow.

So far the season for taking oysters from private grounds, which began on September 1, has not been encouraging.

A meeting of the State Board of Fisheries is to be held in Hampton tomorrow, at which McDonald Lee, chairman of the board, is expected to be present. At this meeting the vessels of the state oyster navy will be assigned to duty. The principal work of these vessels consists in enforcing the cull law and other legislation pertaining to the oyster industry.

FIRE IN NEW YORK.

A fire, discovered late Saturday afternoon in the seven story building at Nos. 433 and 431 West street, New York, occupied by Enoch Morgan's Sons, soap manufacturers, gave the firemen a hard fight for more than four hours, and completely destroyed the building. Three alarms were sounded, bringing out twenty-four engines and four fire boats, and causing a loss estimated at about $500,000 An unusual feature of the big fire was the huge banks of suds caused by the mixing of the water with the soap in the building. The firemen had to wade waist deep through this foam. Besides this, they had to work in a dense smoke.

DEATH ON PRECIPICE.

A dramatic suicide on the mountain above Veyrier, near Geneva, was witnessed on Saturday by a number of Alpinists.

A well-dressed man ascended a perpendicular rock, known as Plein Peril, on the mountain and stood an instant on the summit, from which there is a sheer drop of 300 feet.

He then drew a revolver from his pocket and fired into his mouth, falling to the bottom of the precipice dead.

In his pockets were found a gold watch bearing the name of A. Chapalet, a chain, about $2 in money, and a photograph of a beautiful young woman on her deathbed dressed in bridal robes and surrounded with flowers.

The police also found on him a piece of paper on which was written in pencil: "Heaven have pity on me. I cannot suffer more. I feel my reason going. It must have an end."

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tables last night, and I felt fifty per cent. better than I have for weeks, says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson. Samples free.

THOMAS BURROUGHS, P. M.

The merciless killing of lunatics by organized bands of murderous in the rural districts of Portugal is continuing without interruption. The government's attempt to suppress these bands of vigilants have proved ineffectual, except in the large cities, where the lunatics are thrown into prison as the only means of protecting them. Driven to desperation by the ruthlessness with which they have been threatened many maniacs have themselves turned murderers and several of the oppressors have been slain by them.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 14, 1908.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, aroused by Mr. William J. Bryan's claim of being the president's heir, has written a letter pointing out why he desires the election of Taft. A few extracts from this missive will prove sufficient to show the effrontery of the man who has occupied the presidential chair for nearly eight years and who is trying to dictate his own successor. He praises Judge Taft superlatively, saying among other things that the candidate may be trusted by everybody to do the right thing, that he "can always be trusted to do a little better than his word," that "if elected he will be the president of no class." "I believe with all my heart," says Mr. Roosevelt, "that nowhere within the borders of our great country there can be found another man who will as reliantly and efficiently as Mr. Taft support the rights of the workingman, as he will the rights of every man who in good faith strives to do his duty as an American citizen." The president tells also how heartily in accord he and Mr. Taft have been in the period of their official association, and reviews many acts of Mr. Taft, especially on the bench, which show his views on public matters and his fitness for the office of president Many of Mr. Roosevelt's actions during the period he has filled the position of chief magistrate have brought forth the just criticism, but in the last days of his official career he has made himself a target for many shafts. His attempt to make Judge Taft his successor is the most generally condemned of all his actions. The power and influence of the administration was used to secure his nomination, and now the president has the effrontery to write an open letter calling upon the people of the country to support his candidacy. The passing of Rooseveltism has for a long time been anticipated with joy by millions of people in the United States. This latest manifestation of the prostitution of his high position in the interest of a man he has selected as his successor, will, there is every reason to believe, cause a large majority of the voters of this country next fall to set their disapproval upon his unwarranted procedure and cast their ballots for the democratic nominee.

IN over a half-page advertisement placed in numerous papers last week Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, renewed his bid for the public to come into his blind pool based upon the charter of the old Bay State Company and renamed "National Stock," for the ostensible purpose of beating the system at its own gambling game and letting "the people come into their own." The tack now taken by this confessed stock gambler is to point to the universality of stock speculation and to assert that the only remedy and cure is to buy his National Stock and enable him with the proceeds to cleanse Wall street and to bring into action his "final remedy." He proposes to illustrate his power by building smelters and now offers National Stock on margin. Mr. Lawson evidently believes in the Barnum theory that the American people love to be humbugged.

THAT man has still much to learn about plant life is indicated by the latest scientific announcements. Last week, before the British Association, at Dublin, Francis Darwin, a son of the evolutionist, read a paper in which the power of plants to remember and to form habits was asserted. And now comes Professor Harold Wager, the noted English botanist, in a paper read at London, telling that plants have an organism corresponding to the brain in animals, and eyes with which they can see well. And to all this there is none to dispute.

ALL well-disposed people will be glad to learn that the Catholic procession in London yesterday was not attended by serious disorder or any overt act upon the part of the Catholics or Protestants. Religious issues have at times disgraced the ages, and it is high time every person should have the privilege of paying homage to the Creator in his or her way. It seems, however, that there are still some who fail to understand the mission of the Prince of Peace, and are prone to disgrace the religion they profess by violence.

AT an adjourned meeting of the various theatrical managers of the country at New York last week the plan of merging interests was given definite legal form under the name of the Theatrical Managers' Association. Franchises will be granted to the managers in the different cities, and no one who does not possess such a franchise will be entitled to any of the attractions controlled by the association. It seems that to the formation of trusts there is no end.

JUDGE GEORGE C. MERRICK, of Upper Marlboro, Md., yesterday shot Senator William B. Clagett's dog after the animal had bitten him in the leg. The judge should have then shot the senator for keeping a dog, which showed such contempt of court.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Sept. 14.

Attorney General Bonaparte today ordered an appeal to be taken to the Supreme court of the United States from the recent decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia in declaring the commody of the Hepburn act unconstitutional. Special counsel L. A. Wilmer is to prepare the brief. It will be presented to the supreme court early in the October term.

Orville Wright, the aviator, who broke all world records, including his own, at Fort Myer last week, is busy tuning up his gasoline motor today, and if he gets the machine to working faultlessly within the next three or four days, he may make his official trials for the $25,000 War Department prize before the end of the week.

The Comptroller of the Currency today declared a final dividend of 25 per cent. in favor of the creditors of the National Bank of North America, of New York city, making payment in full, with interest at six per cent.

Williams Jennings Bryan spent a half hour in Washington early today, while en route from Deer Park, Md., to Baltimore and Annapolis. He remained in his private car, where he received a number of local democratic leaders. His train left for Baltimore at 7 o'clock.

No confirmation is available at the War Department of the story of the ordering of American troops to the Mexican border by General Meyer, anticipating a Mexican revolutionist movement.

An official of the State Department today remarked that for the past ten years a revolution had been worked up annually on paper for Mexican "independence day," which occurs on September 16th. Very little credence is therefore placed on any rumors of an uprising.

H. C. Boudar an accountant, has completed the examination of the books of the closed bank of Buckingham, which is said to have been wrecked during June by the irregularities of Cashier A. K. Fawcett. The offender is now at large. Fawcett got away with $11,213.40, and as he is bonded for $10,000 with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, of Baltimore, that concern will have to meet the shortage.

Mrs. H. R. Cortland, whom the police authorities believe to be the wife of Dr. R. O. Flower, the notorious swindler, and Charles Edward Cortland, a relative, were arraigned in the police court in Richmond on Saturday on a charge of being fugitives from justice from New York. Mrs. F. Lindsay-Hagaman, whose name has figured conspicuously in the mystery, refused to appear as a witness, and the case against the Cortlands was dismissed. They at once disappeared. Papers were issued in the afternoon for the attachment of the baggage of Mrs. Hagaman for the satisfaction of a debt of $4,000 alleged to be due by her to the Lichtenstein Millinery Company, of New York. The whereabouts of the alleged Flower are still a mystery.

Railroad Wreck.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Two persons were killed outright, three are dying and upwards of forty were seriously injured early today when a Lake Shore theatre train ran into the rear end of a crowded Lake Erie and Western excursion train in a heavy fog at Chesterton, Ind. The dying are three women so badly crushed that they are unable to tell their names.

Twenty-five other injured persons are in the Mercy Hospital here. The injured were all on the excursion train, which had left Chicago with excursionists returning to La Porte, Ind., and Indianapolis. Every car was packed. At Chesterton the train stopped apparently waiting for another train to pass. Without warning, an east bound Lake Shore theatre train, running on the same track ran into the rear of the excursion train. The engine of the accommodation was wrecked and the rear coach of the excursion train almost completely demolished.

The Maine Election.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 14.—Balloting in the Maine state election began this morning and indications are that a heavy vote will be cast.

The republicans today seem more confident of the election of Fernald, their candidate for governor, by a majority of 15,000. The democrats are confident that Obadiah Gardner will get a safe plurality. The elections are going along quietly.

The little one's cries attracted Howell, who was passing the lot, and he carried the child to the Tenth precinct station.

When Miss Grace Perry, of Hinton, W. Va., opened a package received at the postoffice, a copperhead snake sprang out and bit her several times about the face and neck. The young woman is in a serious condition. Miss Perry opened the package in the postoffice just after the arrival of the eastern mail, Sunday, and a panic followed among the women and men assembled. The snake was killed before further harm was done. A rigid investigation is being conducted by both the local and government authorities.

Archibald Stewart, formerly salesman for a candy concern of Wheeling, W. Va., was shot and mortally wounded by his young bride while spending their honeymoon on the farm of Mr Stewart's parents, at Wilbur, near West Union, Sunday. Mr. Stewart married Miss Hall, at the home of her parents, at Marietta, Ohio, on Thursday, and they went to the country to spend a few days. They were shooting at target, and while Stewart was setting the target, the gun, on the hands of Mrs. Stewart, was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through Stewart's abdomen. Physicians say his chances for recovery are slight.

Three preachers, a temperance leader and a spectator were struck with the eggs, some of the eggs bespattering American flags. No arrests were made, but the police are investigating. The parade was unique. Women rolled baby buggies containing infants, while children in white dresses sang hymns along the line of march.

Today's Telegraphic News

Mr. Bryan in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Sept. 14.—With a copy under his arm of President Roosevelt's declaration that Judge Taft and not he was the man that was entitled to sit in the presidential chair after March 4th, next William Jennings Bryan reached here today. Bryan was a pleased man. The fact that the president had defied tradition and set out to personally conduct the fight for Taft's election seemingly brought joy to the leader of the democrats. He considered and made no bones of so telling his friends that the action of the president was a real "confession of weakness." Former Governor Jennings of Florida, who is in charge of the Bryan trip, also talked freely about the president's letter. The fact that he is the first incumbent of that office to enter actively into a campaign to name his own successor was declared by the governor and his friends to show clearly to the country that the statements made prior to the Chicago convention that Roosevelt planned a "regency" to succeed himself were true.

Bryan was met at the station here by a committee of leading democrats and escorted to the Belvidere Hotel where he "sat through" a formal breakfast, he himself having eaten before he reached the city. He was asked about the report originating in Washington that, if elected he would make Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, the hero of Santiago, secretary of the navy. He declined to discuss the report other than to reiterate his former statements that he has made no promises to any one as to patronage in the event of his election. However, he declared that the admiral was a gallant officer and deserved any honor that might come to him from his countrymen.

The democratic candidate rested at his hotel until noon when he went to Annapolis in a special electric car to deliver a speech. Tonight he will speak in the Fifth Regiment Armory, an immense structure, in Baltimore.

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 14—Candidate Bryan arrived here at 12:10. accompanied by nearly the entire membership of the state central committee. He was greeted at the station by Mayor Claud, and a local committee. There was an absence of any public demonstration as he drove through the streets to the Maryland hotel.

Will be Asked to Explain.

London, Sept. 16.—Premier Asquith, who at the last moment interfered in the great Catholic procession of the Blessed Sacrament and caused the parade yesterday to be robbed of all ceremonial, may have to answer to Parliament for his action. Conservative leaders announced today that when Parliament meets that the premier will be asked to explain his interference. The demand comes not alone from the Catholics, who are greatly incensed at the government's action, but from the liberally minded people generally and from a large number of Asquith's own party.

Today's papers, both morning and afternoon, with the exception of the Pearson and Harmsworth publications, join regardless of politics in denouncing the government's attitude, terming it a cowardly surrender to bigotry. That the procession was not marked with a violence that would have brought everlasting disgrace on England, is due to the Catholic dignitaries, the papers assert, and the cabinet is not entitled to any credit for the happy escape from an outrage.

New York Democrats.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 14.—With the arrival of the democratic leaders of the state, the preliminary work of the state convention, which will convene at noon tomorrow, is under way today.

Much interest is centered today in the choice of the Tammany delegation for governor. So far leader Murphy has remained silent, and his attitude toward Lieut. Gov. Chanler who is at present in the lead for the governorship, remains a mystery.

McCarren and his Kings county delegation still remain steadfast in advocating the candidacy of Major James N. Adam, of Buffalo. The state committee will convene tonight and the temporary roll of the convention and the selection of temporary officers will be decided.

New York, Sept. 14.—Tammany Hall began its move on Rochester, today, for the democratic state convention which opens tomorrow. Six special trains, loaded with Tammany Braves and the things that make the Braves happy left this morning, three over the New York Central, two over the Erie and one over the Lehigh Valley.

Roosevelt's Heir.

New York, Sept. 14.—Politicians around the national headquarters here today are discussing the "heirship to the Roosevelt policies." The president's letter disclaiming Bryan as the claimant and giving Taft a "half interest" in his reform schemes together with a clear title thereto, after March 4th, has aroused more interest here than any event of the campaign. The democrats see in the move a sign of fear on the part of republicans. They declare that only the belief that their candidate was getting the worst of it would induce the president to take part in the campaign. Whatever the cause the republicans say the letter will have a powerful effect on the campaign. It is their belief that his word in the west has wonderful weight and that the letter will rally thousands of votes to Taft.

Duke Abruzzi.

Rome, Sept. 14.—An early marriage of the Duke Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins, his American fiance, is indicated today in the duke's request of the Navy Department for a three months' leave of absence in order to pay a visit to the Elkins family. Ever since the duke's brother, the Count of Turin, failed in his endeavor to win the consent of Queen Margherite to the wedding it has been rumored that instead of defeating the marriage the queen's opposition would hasten it. January 29 was the tentative date for the wedding, being the duke's birthday anniversary. His request for a leave of absence, which will undoubtedly be granted, is said by his friends to mean that he will try to induce Miss Elkins to become his wife during his coming trip to America.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 14.—There was much shifting of position by larger room traders during the first hour, some of them putting out large lines of short stocks, while others took profits on long holdings, the supply from both sources causing a moderate reaction in leading issues during the first half hour. The coal stocks were exceptionally strong. Industrials were heavy.

New York Republicans.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Whether Charles E. Hughes will be the next republican nominee for governor of New York will be determined late today when the bosses dominating the State convention called for three p. m. decides whether they have sufficient courage to knife the governor. That the bosses can defeat Hughes if they choose, is admitted even by the governor's friends who think Hughes has won out because of the opposition's lack of nerve. On the other hand the anti-Hughes faction insists Hughes has already been eliminated. They are working desperately to get together on some one agreeable to all, Speaker Wadsworth and Secretary of State Root being the two most prominently mentioned. The former is most willing and is working desperately in his own behalf, but Secretary Root who is to act as both temporary and permanent chairman is advising all hands to carry out the wish of President Roosevelt and Judge Taft that Hughes be named.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 14—With enough delegates opposed to him to snow him under on the first ballot, should they get together on a candidate, there is every indication here late this afternoon that the State republican convention will which be called to order at 3 p.m. will renominate Charles B. Hughes for governor.

Within the past 24 hours the state bosses have made frantic efforts to combine on a man mutually agreeable. They have failed and on the eve of the nomination, the situation remains just what it has been for the few months—Hughes against the field.

Shortly after noon Elihu Root, the one man upon whom the allies had come nearest to an agreement, stated positively that as presiding officer of the convention he would not permit the presentation of his name.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Sept. 14.—The following statement was issued from Sagamore Hill today:

"The president has been in communication with Secretary Root and Congressman Cocks in reference to the governorship situation and has authorized them to state that while he has no intention of dictating, to all his friends who have spoken to him on the matter he has said in the strongest possible terms that he favors the renomination of Governor Hughes."

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

A great procession of Catholic clergy, which brought the Eucharistic Congress to an end, was held in London yesterday afternoon amid scenes such as the English churchmen, who planned it, had never anticipated. Cardinal Vannutelli, the pope's legate, walked at the head of the procession, wearing his scarlet robes and hat, but not carrying the Host. He was accompanied by a body guard of English peers, of whom the Duke of Norfolk was the most prominent, and a concourse of cardinals, archbishops and bishops, who also were attired in unceremonial robes instead of vestments, which originally it had been proposed they should wear.

No such throngs of people have been seen in London since Queen Victoria's funeral. The purpose of Archbishop Bourne, the head of the Westminister diocese, and his associates, who arranged the programme, had been to have the Host carried through the streets in the rear of Westminster Cathedral so that the great body of Catholics, who were unable to participate in any of the services within the Cathedral, should have an opportunity of joining in the Eucharistic observances and of seeing all the high ecclesiatics present in London on this memorable occasion.

The route of the procession was laid through the quiet streets adjacent to the Cathedral, and but for the unexpected partisan strife, which a discussion of this ceremony brought on, it probably would have been solemnized quietly and in a reverent atmosphere. The great majority of those who attempted to witness the spectacle, however, apparently were attracted by curiosity and a small part were openly and demonstratively hostile. The Catholic element cheered heartily while the procession passed by and throughout the route, but there was heard also considerable "booting." The police had not expected such crowds and met with much opposition in their attempts to keep the path clear, which they hardly succeeded in doing, so that the papal legate and his followers had to push their way through a narrow lane, being frequently and unpleasantly jostled about. A number of persons fainted in the crush and were carried off by the ambulances.

After the procession had re-entered the Cathedral, Cardinal Vannutelli appeared on the high balcony in gorgeous robes and elevated the Host, while the thousands of Catholics outside the building reverently knelt.

The last day of the congress opened with pontifical mass in the cathedral, which was celebrated by the papal legate and at which all the cardinals, archbishops and bishops, and many others of the clergy assisted. The great edifice was crowded, the audience following with rapt attention the sermon of Cardinal Gibbons, who preached eloquently.

SHOT AT WASHINGTON.

Henry Washington, colored, came near entering the "distant future" yesterday afternoon when he narrowly escaped being shot by a negro woman named Annie Johnson, who lives on north Washington street. It is said that Washington went to this woman's house and became very abusive. He was warned to desist, but refused, and continued his tirade of abuse when the woman opened fire on him, one of the balls grazing his head. Washington was locked up and this morning Justice Caton examined into the matter and dismissed Washington, the complainant failing to appear.

SUPERVISORS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the supervisors of Alexandria county, held at the County Court house Saturday last, at which the officers of W., A. & F. C. Ry. Company were present, an order passed giving authority to the Falls Church road to shift the company's track from the centre to the middle of Canal street in Rosslyn. Besides the representatives of the Falls Church road there was present the attorney for the Washington-Southern road, which company is interested, as having Canal street so unobstructed as to afford free access to the station property, a part of which is used by the Allegheny Coal Company as a distributing point.

ROW OVER A LIMB.

Many a wordy war has been occasioned by a fruit tree growing in one yard, —the fruit of which occasionally hangs over in another—as to whom the fruit belongs. A case of this kind came up in Police Court this morning when Newton Fant was complainant against Fannie Dade for abuse about the peach tree problem. Fannie was dismissed.

JESSIE THE SLASHER.

Late Saturday night Policeman Bell arrested Jesse Pollard, colored, and brought him to the station house on the charge of wielding a knife too freely about the person of one Lizzie Moore, also colored. The woman's hip was cut open, rendering her helpless. Drs. Hopkins and Pinn had to take several stitches in the wound. The case of Pollard, who had left $50 collateral, was called this morning and continued.

ACCOTINK NEWS.

The democratic club recently organized in Mount Vernon District held an enthusiastic meeting at Potter's Hill Saturday night. Hon. L. H. Machen, of this city, delivered a stirring address on the issues which confront the people. The club was made a permanent organization and decided to hold its next meeting at Accotink September 26, at which time prominent speakers will be present and deliver addresses. The presiding officer is Mr. D. H. Allen.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A business meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at their rooms. As this is the first meeting after the summer vacation it is expected that a volume of business will be transacted.

The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of the following letter this morning.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY.
Office Vice President & Gen. Manager.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10, 1908.

Mr. J. T. Preston, Secretary, The Chamber of Commerce, Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: Referring to previous correspondence, will say, after reconsidering the matter, we have decided to make Alexandria a stop for all our passenger trains in both directions, and instructions have been issued accordingly. We feel that we should not do anything that you think will injure your city, even if we suffer ourselves. Yours truly,

C. H. ACKERT,
Vice President & General Manager.

It is the understanding that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company has also come into line and this would result in all trains of all lines stopping at Alexandria.

The officials of The Chamber of Commerce feel very much gratified over this action, as they realize that, owing to the present rate laws, it is a matter of considerable loss to the railroads in question to re-arrange their schedules and feel that such action, taken under such conditions, demonstrates a feeling of interest that should be highly appreciated.

THE ARMORY CASE.

In the suit of F. L. Slaymaker vs. P. J. Murphy and Windsor Demaine, in the controversy over the armory property, the respondents today, through Attorney S. G. Brent, filed their demurra and answer to the bill of complaint filed against them, in which among other things they allege:

That the deed from Robinson et. als. to the City Council did not convey any title in the armory to the City Council because it was not in the power of said City Council to accept the trust mentioned in said deed.

Because only twenty-five persons signed the deed and not all the members composing the A. L. I. military company.

Because the deed shows that those twenty-five persons conveyed only their right, title and interest, in the property, but that the bill fails to show what right, &c. they had in said lot.

Because the deed was never delivered to the City Council nor had Council ever accepted the trust mentioned.

Because said Slaymaker acting as captain, had no right to institute the suit.

The answer is voluminous and six exhibits of orders, &c. are filed in connection with the case.

The defendants also claim that the old Alexandria Light Infantry company was not lawfully disbanded.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Elite Picture Company will give a special show tonight, exhibiting two reels of fine pictures. "The Boundary" is a fine subject showing a dispute between two farmers over their land. "The Susceptible Youth," is a fine picture and worth seeing. Their vaudeville act will be Andy Thumser in a "Comedy Tramp Juggler," he comes highly recommended and will please you.

Entire change of programme at the Alexandria Amusement Company, "A Crime in the Snow," "Serving the Writ" are the pictures for tonight and are of an interesting nature. "Anything to Oblige" is a beautiful hand colored picture.

At the Opera House "Duchaunt" and his trained fox terriers will be put on and it is good. It is a big act and worth the money. Entire change of motion pictures.

Dr. Bennett has removed to the corner of Columbus and Wythe streets, and his free show will continue to attract large numbers.

MERITED PROMOTION.

Mr. Louis N. Duffey, who has been connected with the clerk's office of the corporation court for a number of years, will on Wednesday be appointed deputy clerk of the court by Judge L. C. Barley on the latter's return to this city. Mr. Duffey was 21 years old on Saturday and but for the reason that he was under age would have received the deputyship some time ago. His many friends whom he has so politely assisted will be glad to know of his promotion.

CHARTER.

The Corporation Commission has granted a charter to the Capital Auto Sightseeing Company, incorporated. The object is to own and manager autos and sightseeing auto cars. The capital stock is $25,000 and the officers are W. H. Andrew, of Washington, president and treasurer, and W. T. Buckey, of Washington, vice president and secretary. These with C. W. Sprague, of Philadelphia, are the directors. Mr. Leo P. Harlow is the attorney in this city.

BOAT RACE.

The committee making arrangements for the races between keel power boats to be held next Sunday will meet tomorrow night at the Elkton. All owners of keel power boats are expected to be present. The course will be from the foot of Cameron street to Fort Foote buoy and return. Admiral Calmes, of the Augusta, will be asked to make his yacht the stake boat on the occasion.

REPORTED STRIKE.

It is said that a strike occurred among the section hands on the Washington, Southern Railway near Seminary Crossing, Saturday afternoon, the men quitting work and walking to this city. The reason, it is assigned, was a threatened reduction of wages to $1.05 a day, the sum paid on other roads for the same class of work.

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Lawler, wife of John Lawler, who died Thursday, took place at the home, 320 south Pitt street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. L. J. Kelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Burial was in Bethel Cemetary.

FOUND IN A WELL.

Chief Goode, on information furnished him in his endeavor to round up the thieves who have been operating at the Potomac yards, yesterday detailed Officers Sampson, Bell and Garvey to proceed to the old Dan Henry House at the corner of Princess and Fairfax streets and look into the matter. These officers went there and secured the services of Mr. Wat Langley to go down in a well and search. Mr. Langley found the head of a barrel supposed to be that of the barrel containing the whisky shipped to Joel M. Cochran and Co., in this city some months ago. The lid may play an important part in the case. Chief Goods and Officer Sampson have recovered a pair of shoes belonging to the shipment to P. M. Bradshaw last July in the possession of Lewis Jackson, who is employed at the fertilizer plant in this city. Jackson claims he bought them but the police officers have been unable to find out from whom he purchased them.

H. C. Cole, bicycle policeman of Precinct No. 4, Washington, was in this city today and held a conference with Commonwealth's Attorney Brent and Chief Goods, of the police force in reference to the recovery of the articles that have recently been stolen in Washington and this city, many of which have been recovered here. Two of the men—Morrison and Gibson—implicated in the thefts (which includes the stealing of a trunk from the Norfolk & Washington Steamboat wharf) are now in jail and others it is believed will be captured. Chief Goods and members of the Alexandria force have succeeded in recovering many of the stolen articles and they believe that more plunder will be found. Chief Goods and Officer Cole say that much of the plunder was brought to the place of Dean and Breen, in this city, and disposed of here.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Having almost reached the allotted age of three score years and ten, and the parents of seventeen children whom they look to with pride—having grown up to be useful men and women—Saturday night was made the occasion of a happy gathering in a surprise party to Mr. John and Mrs. Teresa Donnelly at their handsome residence on Prince street in honor of their golden wedding. Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. John Donnelly clasped hands at the altar and plighted their faith to each other the remaining days of their lives, and when the party assembled the appearance of the aged couple, hearty and happy, proved conclusively that the promise had been faithfully adhered to. Though grown gray in the manifold duties attendant upon a busy life, Mr. Donnelly possesses the ardor of youth while his wife was as happy as she could have been on her wedding day. Many and handsome were the presents showered upon the couple.

FOG CAUSES COLLISION.

An accident was caused in the yards of the Manassas branch of the Southern Railway at Manassas at 4.30 this morning on account of heavy fog. It appears that an engine was coaling at the yards and the approaching engine and could not be seen, thereby hangs the result. The engines were damaged but little, but Engineer C. W. Mankin of this city was bruised about the hips, J. W. Cross, of Manassas, had his right foot mashed; James M. Neff, of Strasburg, had both legs bruised; W. D. O'Neal of this city, both knees scratched and R. V. Venesters, of this city, had his feet bruised and nose skinned. No delay was caused by the accident as the damage to the engines, as stated above was slight.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT.

A dispatch was received in this city today announcing the death at the German Hospital in Philadelphia yesterday evening of Mr. John M. Burke. The deceased was 59 years old, and leaves a widow and one son. Mr. Burke was a nephew of the late John W. Burke, and spent his boyhood days with his uncle in Alexandria. Shortly after the close of the civil war he left for the west where he engaged in business and prospered. He made occasional visits to Alexandria where he met the companions of his early years, all of whom will regret to hear of his death. Mr. Burke's remains will be brought to this city for interment.

OYSTER ROAST.

Capt. Joseph Dreifus handsomely entertained his many friends at his summer cottage in Prince George's county, Md., yesterday at an oyster roast. The day was beautiful and the entertainment was all that could be wished. Among the guests were Old. Ramer, of Ramer's Hotel, Capt. Joseph Moore, of the speed boat Tryto, and Messrs. V. C. Moore, J. C. Peyton, E. Williams Brook Adams and others. The new launch just finished for Capt. Dreifus is having a six-horsepower gasoline engine installed and being made ready for pleasure cruising on the river.

BE CAREFUL OF EDIBLE FUNGUS

People should be careful about mushrooms, especially those known as the edible fungi, for Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wedderburn and two sons came near being poisoned yesterday by eating a highly scientifically named fungus. Dr. Combs, of Vienna, attended the family at Wedderburn, land another physician attended young Mr. Wedderburn who had gone to Wasington.

TO BE HEARD TOMORROW.

The trial of the party who attempted to shoot a fruit merchant, of this city, at the Dyke a day or two ago will take place at the Dyke, Fairfax county, tomorrow evening at 5 o'clock before Justice Wright. Constable A. J. Payne has been in the city today summoning witnesses.

WANTED IN LYNCHBURG.

Chief Goods received a letter this morning from the Chief of Police at Lynchburg asking if the authorities here had in their possession a man named Inez, who is wanted in Lynchburg. A man named Small, alias Inez, was arrested in this city some weeks ago for passing a worthless check. He is held awaiting the action of the grand jury and is in jail here. The chief so notified the Lynchburg authorities.

RATES INCREASED.

A number of citizens who usually take a Sunday afternoon trip to Mt. Vernon went to the station in this city yesterday to embark and were informed that instead of 20 cents, the usual fare, they would have to pay 50 cents for the round trip. The consequence is that they did not take the trip. It is a little surprising that in view of the fact that one cannot enter the grounds on Sunday that the rates should be increased.

UGLY HABIT.

A good deal of complaint is heard from church goers, the result of a number of young men who thoughtlessly congregate in front of church doors just before the congregations are dismissed and smoke cigars and cigarettes and expectorate on the pavement. It cannot be possible that these young men do this maliciously and it is thought a word of caution to them is sufficient.

An Angry Elephant.

A sentinel in the menagerie at Paris has had a curious experience with one of the largest elephants. The sentinel was very conscientious and always requested the spectators not to give the animals anything to eat, which seemed to displease the elephant in question to such an extent that he several times sprinkled the sentry's head with water from his trunk. One day a bystander offered this particular elephant a large cake. The sentinel interfered, as usual, and the elephant promptly discharged in his face a violent stream of water. A general laugh ensued, but the sentinel, having calmly wiped his face, stood on one side and continued as watchful as before. Soon afterward he found it necessary to repeat his admonition, but no sooner was this uttered than the elephant laid hold of his musket, twirled it round his trunk, trod it under his feet and did not restore it until he had twisted it into nearly the form of a corkscrew. Then he gave a snort at the discomfited sentinel, as if to say, "Now I hope you'll mind your own business!"

A Neighing Cock.

Camden says the Thames was once called the Cockney, and therefore a cockney means simply one who lives on the banks of the Thames. Wedgwood says a cockney, or cockerney, is one pampered by city indulgence, in contradistinction to rustics hardened by outdoor work. There is, however, a legend, almost too good to be true—namely, that a Londoner who had never before slept out of sound of Bow Bells had occasion to go into the country and was detained all night. He was much disturbed by the lowing of the cattle, the grunting of the pigs and other sounds of country life, which he could not understand, and in particular he was frightened by the crowing of the cock. In the morning, in response to the farmer's inquiries, he said the sound of the wild beasts had kept him awake. Just at that moment the cock crowed again, and the Londoner said: "That's the one! He's been neighing like that for hours!" Since then Londoners have been called cockneighs or cockneys.

The Python.

Contrary to general belief, the python or boa constrictor rarely attacks people and is looked upon very differently by the people from the hamadryad and cobra. The python will take up his abode in a neighborhood and will not disturb anything except the henroosts. These he disturbs very much, as he has a great fondness for chickens; also for a stray dog or small goat. I know of one case, however, in a floating house where a python attacked a woman and, contrary to the preconceived idea, did not crush her in his folds, but attempted to swallow her, commencing with one of her feet. When she was rescued her foot and ankle were badly lacerated by the snake's teeth. The Chinese kill the python to make medicine from the liver, which has a high repute among them. They also use the dried skin for medicine. Any Chinese drug shop in Siam will have a number of python skins for sale.—Medical Journal.

Woman the Tougher Sex.

Although men, as they run, are perhaps muscularly stronger than women, their inability to withstand the elements and their reliance upon clothes place them considerably below the so called weaker sex in the matter of unclothed toughness. Women wear clothes for ornament. Men use them as protective covering. A group of men marooned clotheless on an island in the temperate zone might be expected to die off in a month from drafts and colds and rheumatism. The health of women similarly placed would suffer little from the enforced exposure. The fact appears to be, therefore, that in everything but muscle—in vitality, ruggedness, character, disposition, brain power, etc.—woman is the tougher, not the weaker, sex.—Kansas City Journal.

SCHWAB DROPS HUND REDS.

About 375 men were discharged from the Bethlehem Pa., Steel Work last week Charles M. Schwab, who recently spent a day in the mills incognito. The puddle mill and gray mill were closed down and work on the building of gigantic new blast furnaces was stopped. Since Mr. Schwab has begun to release his force between 600 and 700 have been dismissed. Mr. and Mrs. Schwab, after visiting the mansion of Mrs. R. P. Linderman signed a lease for one year, and will take up their residence there on October 1. Mrs. Linderman is the widow of a late president of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an east bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to La Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarroea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into La Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into La Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car."
